

Representation of TESOL-SPAIN at the international conference on quality in bilingual programs in higher education

Dates: 10-12 May, 2018

Venue: Universidad de Huelva

Organisers: Research group at the university, led by Fernando Rubio Prieto

Brief description:

I was there for the whole event, with a table in the exhibition area, networking for next year's TESOL-SPAIN event in Oviedo.

There were about 200 participants, but it was mainly a conference by researchers for researchers, rather than an event for practising teachers. But very interesting to see how internationalisation strategies at universities are working.

I attended the 5 plenaries:

DAVID MARSH (Universidad de Jyväskylä, Finlandia)

DO COYLE (Universidad de Edimburgo, Reino Unido)

VÍCTOR PAVÓN (Universidad de Córdoba, España)

INMACULADA FORTANET (Universidad Jaume I, España)

DAVID LASAGABASTER (Universidad del País Vasco, España)
