

SM-DAYTON

A team of professionals with extensive experience in consultancy, training, teaching and editing. We are committed to providing top quality educational services, materials and practical teaching resources. We strive to work together with schools to guide them in CLIL so they can support students through the exciting challenges of plurilingualism.

