Your favourite website: TED Talks (Ideas Worth Spreading).

A gadget you can't live without: my mobile phone. It keeps me connected to the world and lets me work and study whenever I am.

Something you'd never throw away: letters, postcards and greeting cards from my family, my friends and my students.

Who or what inspires you? My students. They always inspire me to be a better person and a better teacher.

Useful teaching tool: my traveling library, Quizlet, Glogster EDU, ClassDojo, and Kahoot.

Your favourite lesson: Your thoughts are your words. Your words are your actions. Try to stay positive and be kind to yourself and the others. We can make the difference under the rain.

Your favourite bit about your talk: reading for pleasure in English or any other language and learning by doing are the best way to grow up.

A lesson you've learnt while teaching: we do not know everything. There is always something new and incredible to learn from everybody and everywhere.
